Gospel Reflection: Jesus begins His mission by walking along the Sea of Galilee and calling ordinary people to follow Him. They were simple fishermen, not important or powerful, yet Jesus saw something special in them. When He said, “Come after me,” they left their nets and trusted His voice. They were willing to leave what was familiar because they believed He was leading them to something greater. This Gospel reminds us that Jesus still walks into our daily lives today. He calls us in the middle of our work, our family life, and even our struggles. He does not wait for us to be perfect; He simply asks us to follow Him. When we respond with trust, He can change our hearts and guide our lives in a new and beautiful way. Riflessione sul Vangelo: Gesù inizia la sua missione camminando lungo il mare di Galilea e chiamando persone semplici a seguirlo. Erano pescatori, persone comuni, ma Gesù vide qualcosa di speciale in loro. Quando disse: «Seguitemi», lasciarono le reti e si fidarono della sua parola. Lasciarono ciò che conoscevano perché credevano che Gesù li stava guidando verso qualcosa di più grande. Questo Vangelo ci ricorda che Gesù continua a chiamarci anche oggi nella nostra vita di ogni giorno. Ci chiama nel nostro lavoro, nella nostra famiglia e nelle nostre difficoltà. Non ci chiede di essere perfetti, ma solo di seguirlo con fiducia. Quando rispondiamo alla sua chiamata, Lui può trasformare il nostro cuore e dare una nuova direzione alla nostra vita.

Sunday of the Word of God: Today is “Sunday of the Word of God” and it is to be devoted to the celebration, study, and dissemination of the Word of God. We recall the importance given by the Second Vatican Council to rediscovering Sacred Scripture for the life of the Church. In his apostolic letter, the Holy Father tells us that the celebration has “ecumenical value, since the Scriptures point out, for those who listen, the path to authentic and firm unity.”
